There are 6.7 million people enrolled in health insurance through NY State of Health. However, due to proposed changes in federal law, there could be changes to your NY State of Health coverage.

These federal changes could result in higher premiums to enroll or renew your health plan and could mean new requirements to enroll or renew your health plan.

If you are enrolled in the ESSENTIAL PLAN

- Over 730,000 individuals may lose their Essential Plan coverage
- Almost 50 percent of current enrollees may lose eligibility for premium tax credits
- Hospitals could incur over $1.3 billion in losses, which could make it harder to access care

If you are enrolled in MEDICAID

- Over 1 million Medicaid enrollees may lose their coverage
- New paperwork and work requirements might leave almost 1.5 million New Yorkers without insurance
- Enrollees may have to renew their coverage twice a year instead of annually

3

If you are enrolled in a QUALIFIED HEALTH PLAN (QHP)

- An estimated 65,000 – 80,000 New Yorkers may lose their coverage
- 140,000 enrollees who receive tax credits may see their costs increase by 38 percent
- 100,000 enrollees could see their rates go up by at least 5 percent
